A wealthy, youthful and mobile demographic base

Exeter city centre retains 92.5% of spend within its primary catchment population

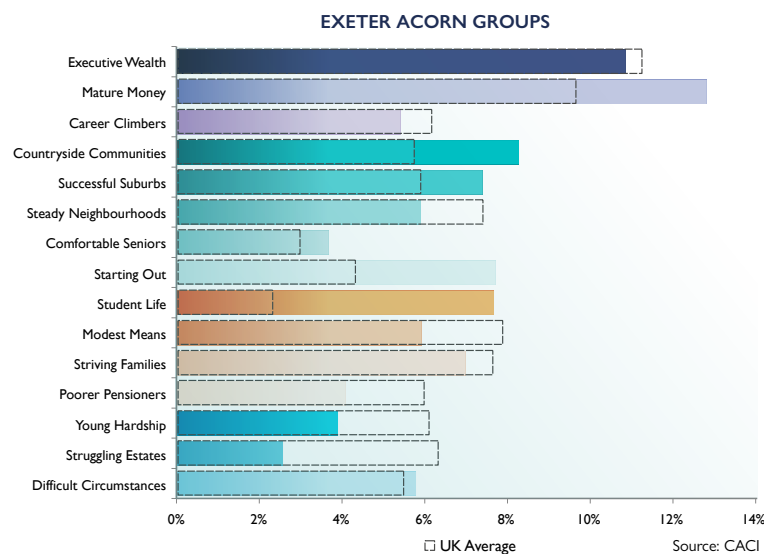

The age profile of Exeter includes a high proportion of both the high spending young adults demographic, reflecting the sizeable student population, and retired and older, working age adults aged 45-64. Exeter is forecast to see significantly above average percentage growth in the available pool of retail spending between 2020-2025 (PMA).

Despite Exeter boasting a particularly high proportion of 2 car households, significantly above average, Exeter city centre retains 92.5% of spend within its catchment population with little leakage of spend to nearby towns and cities (CACI).

CATCHMENT & DEMOGRAPHICS

The total population within the Exeter Primary Retail Market Area is estimated at 439,000 and is forecast to see above average levels of population growth (6.6%) over the period 2020-2030. This is anticipated to drive both leisure and retail spend within the local area.

EXETER CITY CENTRE REGENERATION

Liveable Exeter Programme

Borne off the back of Exeter being granted Garden City designation in 2019, the Liveable Exeter programme is a 20-year strategy aiming to create new communities in the city through the delivery of 12,000 new homes by 2040, alongside investment into the sustainable infrastructure needed to attract investment and improve quality of life. Liveable Exeter will encompass eight brownfield sites around the city.

CityPoint

Exeter's £300m mixed use development in the heart of the city centre. The 850,000 sq ft flagship development is planned to deliver 500 new homes, 200,000 sq ft of office accommodation, flexible workspace, hotels and commercial leisure, culture, and retail uses.

“CityPoint will support the creation of a vibrant city environment and facilitate an economy which runs in to the evening”
[Richard Marsh, ECC]

Harlequins Centre Development

Plans have been submitted to redevelop Exeter's smallest shopping centre, adjacent to the Guildhall Centre, into two co-living blocks. The scheme will comprise c.400 co-living units on the site, and help to meet the pressing need for residential accommodation within the city. As part of the scheme, the plans will see the creation of a pocket park, significant improvements to the urban realm of Paul Street, enhancing the environment for pedestrians and cyclists, and the replacement of the existing pedestrian bridge over Paul Street which provides access to the Guildhall Centre. This direct link will result in an additional customer base accessing the scheme adjacent to Primark, at no cost to the Guildhall Centre. Guildhall will therefore sit on the direct route between this major new co living development and the City Centre.

RETAILING IN EXETER

Exeter is a historic cathedral town, providing 1.39m sq ft of retail accommodation within the town centre (PMA).

Exeter's retail core is concentrated around the junction of South Street, North Street and Fore Street in the west, to the intersection of Sidwell Street and York Road in the east. At the heart of the city is the Cathedral Quarter, which alongside the pedestrianised Gandy Street, provides the more historic retail core with a host of independent shops, bars & restaurants overlooking Exeter Cathedral, creating a historic 'village' green atmosphere.

There are two primary shopping centres within the town, the Princesshay Shopping Centre and the Guildhall Shopping Centre. The Princesshay Shopping Centre, comprising 389,000 sq ft with a fashion-led offering, opened in 2007, extending the retail core southwards and creating a new retail quarter. There are plans to redevelop The Harlequins Shopping Centre into c.400 co-living units.

The High Street runs parallel to Princesshay and the Cathedral area, and features a variety of key retailers including John Lewis, Marks & Spencer, H&M and Boots. Queen Street is a busy city centre street that runs northwest from the High Street towards Exeter University and College, with a focus on food & beverage operators.

GUILDHALL SHOPPING CENTRE

The Guildhall Centre is a successful, well-let semi-covered mall arranged over two floors. The centre combines traditional architecture with a modern shopping centre and dining quarter. The Queen Street façade, designed by Charles Fowler (Covent Garden Architect), leads through to one of the oldest foundations of the City, the 13th century St Pancras Church.

The 307,339 sq ft scheme offers a robust mix of mass market and value-led operators including Primark, Wilko, Sainsbury's and WH Smith. The centre, which opened in 1976, underwent a £13.5m refurbishment in 2016 which saw the opening of the successful Queen Street Dining Quarter, with key tenants including Brewdog, Comptoir Libanais, Turtle Bay and The Botanist (opening November 2021). The Guildhall was awarded the REVO (BCSC) Gold Award following the redevelopment in 2016, due to the scale of enhancement and extensive public realm improvements.

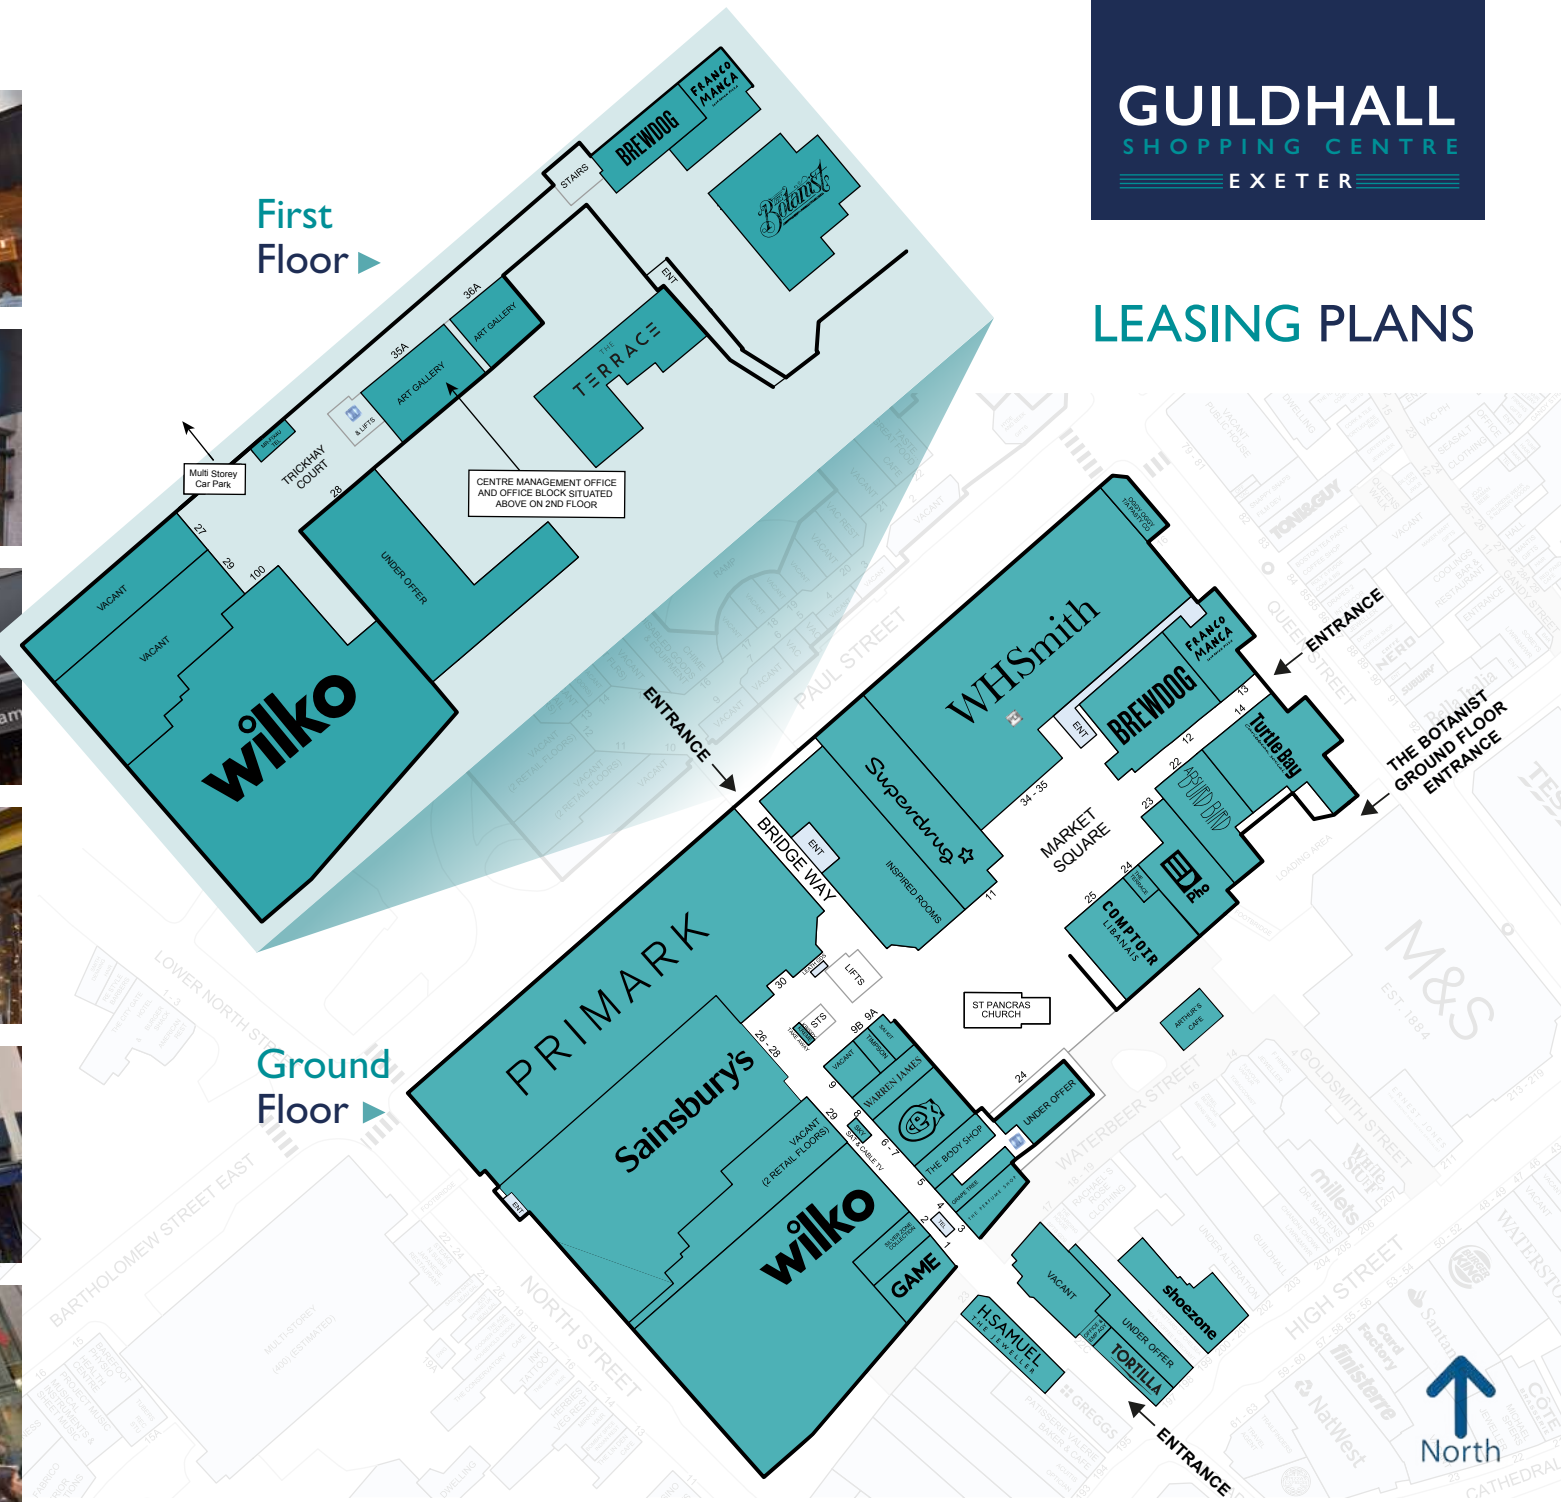

A new deal has been agreed with a popular competitive socialising occupier which is due to exchange this year. This, combined with the mix of hospitality and highly successful retailers, comprises an attractive addition to the leisure offer to cater to the local demographic.

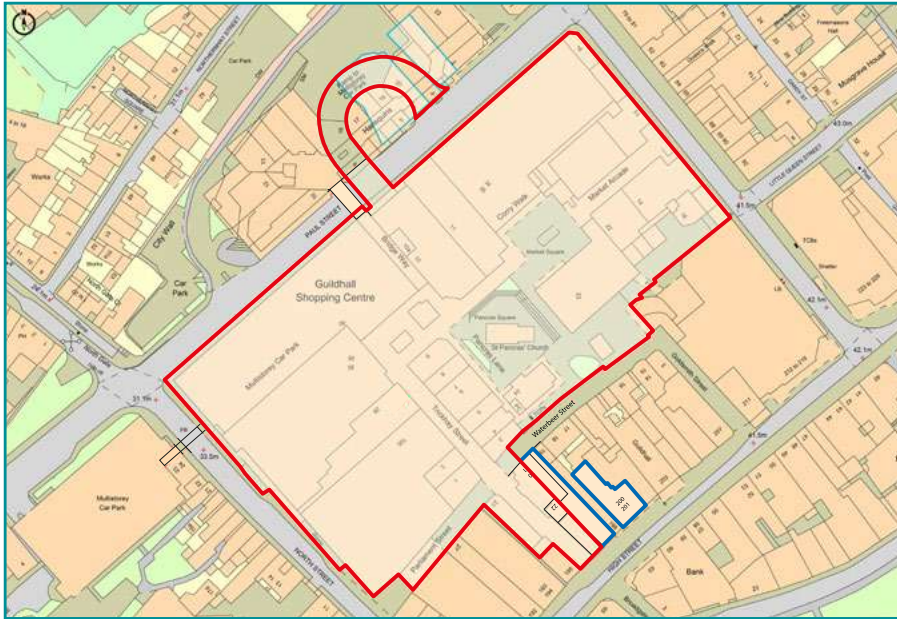

The scheme also benefits from being located adjacent to the City's main 440 space multi-storey car park, accessed via Paul Street.

Pre-Covid annual footfall stood at 9.9 million people per annum (2019)

There are a number of asset management initiatives to consider to add value and drive growth:

CENTRAL SQUARE LEISURE DEVELOPMENT

There is the opportunity to continue to build upon the successful leisure repositioning and re-ignite previous discussions surrounding the development of a leisure scheme on the 1st floor of Market Square. This involves the potential right-sizing of the WH Smith unit.

EXPLORE ALTERNATIVE USES

There is also the opportunity to explore alternative uses which may be introduced into the under-utilised parts of the scheme, such as medical, administrative or co-working space to diversify the income stream and to capitalise on the strong, current demand from operators in these sectors. There is ongoing interest from a service office operator in the vacant offices above the Superdrug unit.

GYM OPERATOR

Terms are being discussed with Wilko to surrender part of the 1st floor space in order to accommodate a gym operator.

LEISURE OPERATOR

There is opportunity to introduce a leisure operator into the former Ferns restaurant. There is demand from a bowling occupier for this space.

LEASE RE-GEARS AND RENEWALS

Proactive management of leases to maximise income and secure the future of key tenants within the scheme.
